ABSTRACT

Some of the children- especially in urban areas are not fortunate enough to have a tension free childhood, with fair opportunities for all around development. Instead of being able to enjoy the benefits of economic protection, provided by the family elders, they are forced by their circumstances to work for and contribute towards the economic well being of their families. In order to get a more detailed understanding of various aspects of the problem of child labour in Bikaner city, a field survey was carried out amongst 150 child labourers in different occupations and localities of the city.
