DISCUSSION

If it is about respect or higher position in professional environment or in society, education certainly provides the following: creating more employment opportunities, securing high income, developing problem-solving skills, improving the economy, providing a prosperous, and happy life, giving back to the community, creating modern society, bridging the borders, creating equal opportunities, and introducing empowerment. Nelson Mandela says, "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.

The education has a great impact on women. It is an evidential from the speech of a lady. Women I interviewed said, education will turn as an input in reduction of the child maternal deaths, improve the child health, and lower fertility.

There is a slight difference identifiable between an illiterate, school educated women, and graduate women. It is clearly visible that an educated woman will provide her children more nutritious food when compared with an illiterate and semi educated lady. So, it is clear that the educated lady provides her family more nutritious food that can reduce the diseases related to food, and nutrition.

The skill, knowledge, and self assurance will be differing among illiterate, semi educated, and UG graduated women. In the case of well educated women, she can assist her children, and do a better job compared to the remaining two categories of ladies. She possesses good knowledge on a majority of things in the society. We can call a person better employee with skill, knowledge, and self-assurance only. An educated woman is a more productive, and well-paid at work, but education is becoming a question to women in male dominated society. An educated lady will turn as the light in the dark stricken house.

The education of women will help to elevate the social barriers in and around to her environment. It works as key to eradicate social evils like infanticide, dowry, child marriage, harassments, superstitious believes, etc. It not only helps women of today, but also the future generation of women for gender equality existence. The educational institutions are playing a remarkable role in shaping the character of the female. The school environment will play a dominant role in shaping and designing the identity of the girls. Teacher made the girl strong in several instances.

The identity of the students will be having an effect on their studies and experiences also, so safe teaching will help the students to become successful learners. In some of the cases, a few women are unable to clear their studies due to improper identity. Identity and identity formation is a tool to develop a distinct personality of an individual. At that juncture individual characters could be influenced for the individual recognition.

A general question, what education gives to women?

We can give a common answer to this question, the girls who receive education are likely to marry young, and more likely to lead healthy, productive lives. The educated women get higher income, and at the same time they involve in decision making which in turn affect the system or the organization, and at the same time they will develop a friendly and cooperative in the family. Some of the cases have revealed the girl education certainly strengthens economies, and reduces inequalities. The value formation process depends on both education, and identity of the individual, if the women are educated they have good value in the society.

The women and girl who are educated are empowered. Education of women and girl will reduce the poverty, and more employment opportunities. Education leads to fewer unintended pregnancies, and delayed marriages. There is no doubt in saying that education to women will improve her health. There is one more important aspect of observable is education will increase the women participation in Politics. We need to accept the education will fill in him the curiosity, and equip them to own better skill, and better human beings. The girl students' personality will be shaped at school level.

CONCLUSION

The education will change the role of women in society. The educated women's self confidence is different when we compared to illiterate women, and the educated women will affect the society. These women are more active in community life and will contribute more the other poorly educated women. The educated women will bring respect to the family, and it will help in raising the status of women. The educated women will have an idea about their rights and duties, so they fight against social evils like domestic violence, dowry, low wage, etc. education will increase human capital, and productivity. The educated women participation will increase their role of participation in social change like political participation, social equality, and environmental sustainability.
